

September 2019

Dear Parent/Guardian,

As you will be aware, your son/daughter will be sitting GCSE exams in both English Literature and English Language next summer. In order to help them revise for these exams, we have been given the opportunity to buy a number of revision guides at a reduced price which we consider to be of a good quality. The guides are produced by Collins and called 'Snap Revision', if you wish to look at the details online. The guides contain key information and instructions for the exams and would therefore be a useful revision tool, alongside your child's class notes.

For English Language there are two guides available: Reading and Writing. For English Literature, there are a number of different revision guides, each aimed at a different text and your child will know which specific texts they have studied in their class.

The available texts are as follows:

If you would like to order any copies for your son/daughter, then please pay on 'ParentPay' or return the attached slip, with cash or cheque made payable to 'Oakgrove School', to Student Services. Please make sure you select which texts you would like to buy so we can ensure your child receives the correct revision guides. The final deadline for all orders and payments is Monday 30th September. Due to Supply issues we only have a limited number of the Reading and Writing books available prior to the mock exam in October, so these will be sold on a first come first served basis.
