OAKGROVE SCHOOL

SPIRITUAL, MORAL, SOCIAL & CULTURAL POLICY

SUMMARY

Spiritual, moral, social and cultural education helps students develop personal qualities, which are valued in a civilised, democratic society. For example, thoughtfulness, honesty, respect for difference, moral principles, independence, and self-respect. It is taught across the curriculum and throughout school life. It is linked closely to our school aims, philosophy and ethos and incorporates the key values of Life in Modern Britain.

AIMS

To enable students to develop their personal qualities and become:

- Responsible for themselves, accepting an appropriate measure of responsibility;
- Confident and competent both academically and socially;
- Able to distinguish between right and wrong;
- Able to articulate their own attitudes and values;
- Able to understand and be sensitive to the beliefs, values and ways of life of others, responding appropriately to injustice and prejudice;
- Able to become an active citizen and understand life in modern Britain;
- Caring, considerate and compassionate;
- Skilled in working collaboratively and independently;
- Able to reflect on their learning and plan for future development;
- Able to respond positively to challenges and problems.

All staff are involved in spiritual, moral, social and cultural education. These qualities should be evident in the way that students and adults interact throughout the school, in accordance with many other existing qualities.

SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT

Definition

a) Spiritual development is the development of the non-material element of a human being which animates and sustains us and, depending on our point of view, either ends or continues in some form when we die. It is about the development of a sense of identity, self-worth, personal insight, meaning and purpose. It is about the development of a student's 'spirit'. Some people may call it the development of a student's 'soul'; others as the development of 'personality' or 'character'.

b) There are many aspects of spiritual development

Beliefs

- To reflect on the religious traditions of Britain, and take into account other principal religions represented in Britain
- An awareness and understanding of their own and others' beliefs
- A respect for themselves and for others

A sense of awe, wonder and mystery

- Being inspired by the natural world, mystery, or human achievement

OAKGROVE SCHOOL

- Exercising the imagination, inspiration, intuition and insight

Feelings and emotions

- An understanding of feelings and emotions and their likely impact

MORAL DEVELOPMENT

Definition

- a) Moral development is about the building, by students, of a framework of moral values which regulates personal behaviour. It is also about the development of students' understanding of society's shared and agreed values. It is about understanding that there are issues where there is disagreement and it is also about understanding that society's values change. Moral development is about gaining an understanding of the range of views and the reasons for the range. It is also about developing an opinion about different views.
- b) Our intention is that the students of Oakgrove School will be working towards:
- An ability to distinguish right from wrong, based on a knowledge of the moral codes of their own and other cultures;
 - A confidence to act consistently in accordance with their own principles;
 - An ability to think through the consequences of their own and others' actions;
 - A willingness to express their views on ethical issues and personal values;
 - An ability to make responsible and reasoned judgements on moral dilemmas;
 - A commitment to personal values in areas which are considered right by some and wrong by others;
 - A considerate style of life;
 - A respect for others' needs, interests and feelings, as well as their own;
 - A desire to explore their own and others' views;
 - An understanding of the need to review and reassess their values, codes and principles in the light of experience;
 - An understanding of rights and responsibility within the communities and society in which they live, and to gain respect for the civil and criminal law of England.
- c) At Oakgrove School:
- We address moral issues through assemblies, RE and Values and Ethics.
 - We have an Attitudes for Learning Policy contributed to by staff and students.
 - We deal promptly with any discrimination and injustice, involving students in decision-making where appropriate.
